

About the Student Counselling Centre, University of Madras

The Department of Counselling Psychology houses a fully functional Student Counselling Centre at its premises that renders psychological services to the students of the University, with the objective of offering counselling services to help students deal with anxiety, stress, academia and career related issues.

The students can walk in to the Students Counseling Centre, at the Department of Counselling Psychology, University of Madras or contact the telephone numbers 044-5399878 / 044-5399879.

S. P. S.